

WARRANTS FOR THE ILLEGAL
IMPORTATION OF LABORERS11 MILLIONAIRES
TO BE ARRESTED FOR CONSPIRACY

Charged With Violating Contract Labor Law Through Medium of an Employers' Association.

FOR MONTHS THE DISTRICT ATTORNEY HAS INVESTIGATED

Penalty Is Fine of $1,000 to $10,000 or Imprisonment Not More Than Two Years.

ARRESTS WILL CAUSE SENSATION

The Accused Are Heads of Tile Manufacturing and Contracting Firms of New York.

New York, Sept. 24.—Eleven millionaires, heads of tile manufacturing and contracting concerns of this city, are to be arrested on the charge of conspiring to violate, through the medium of an employers' association, the contract labor law, by the importation of foreign workmen. The United States district attorney has been at work on these cases for nearly nine months, and everything is in readiness to serve the warrants.

The penalty provided by the statute is a fine of not less than $1,000 nor more than $10,000, or imprisonment for not more than two years. The arrest of these 11 men is expected to create a sensation.

The men accused in the complaint, which is made by Cornelius O'C. Cowles, immigration inspector at Ellis Island, are:

Arthur T. Mart of Mart & Lawton, of 1123 Broadway, who is charged with being the representative of the tile manufacturers, and who went to Stoke-on-Trent, England, personally, and engaged the skilled workmen to come to this country.

Joseph W. Lantry of W. H. Jackson & Co., president of the Tile, Grate & Mantel Association, the employers' organization.

Charles E. Lawton, partner of Arthur T. Mart, of 1123 Broadway.

Elmer Alexander of Alexander Reed & Co., 127 East Twenty-third street.

Bernard D. Traitel of Traitel Bros., 133 West Forty-third street.

Charles J. Bogert.

E. B. Currier of E. Bradley Currier & Co., 119 West Twenty-third street.

Charles S. Rine of Alfred Booth & Co., 124 West Twenty-third street.

Charles E. Ensign of 1123 Broadway.

Julius Schloss of 15 West Twenty-sixth street.

Charles Bosworth, architect and president of a tile concern, 26 West Twenty-fourth street.

Lawton, Lantry, Alexander and Traitel are known as the "big four" of the Tile, Grate and Mantel Association, and are among the largest manufacturers of tile in the United States.

They are probably the wealthiest men in their line of business, which in recent years has grown to stupendous proportions, and now employs millions of capital, where ten years ago it employed a few hundred thousand.

The most astonishing feature of the case, and one which shows how important the government considers it, and what care and secrecy has been maintained, is the fact that since last January there has been confined on Ellis Island four English tile setters, who, it is alleged, were imported by the combine, with many others, to break a strike, and that after this was accomplished the men were discharged.

These four men are Charles Lewis, Edwin J. Wright, William Angle and Harry Johnson, and all these months they have been detained while the government was perfecting its case.

Fully appreciating the enormous wealth of the 11 accused men, and knowing that any decision against them would be fought through all the courts to the supreme court of the United States, the department of commerce and labor decided that a perfect case must be prepared in order to successfully withstand all attacks. This, it is believed, has been accomplished and the fight will begin tomorrow. If successful, it is believed the violations of the contract labor law will be ended for a long time, as it is intended to ask for the extreme penalty should a conviction be obtained.

GROUND TO PIECES

IN DOUGH MIXER AT CLEVELAND
MACARONI FACTORY.

Horrible Death of Young Carlo Colombi—Shrieks of Agony Caused Girls to Faint.

Cleveland, O., Sept. 24.—In the same room with 20 girls and men, Carlo Colombi, 18 years old, was ground to pieces today in a dough mixer at McCatalano's macaroni factory, on Socville avenue. The head, shoulders and arms of the young man were horribly mangled by the huge knives revolving at a terrific speed in the cylinder. His shrieks of agony rang throughout the factory and several girls fainted in sheer terror.

Colombi lived at 10 Frank street and was the support of his widowed mother. The belt operating the mixer had been thrown off the pulley and Colombi, wrench in hand, leaped into the open tank to fix one of the knife blades which chops and mixes the dough.

While Colombi was tightening a bolt his foot accidentally moved the lever which threw the belt on the pulley operating the knives.

RURAL MAIL BOXES

Illinois Retail Merchants File Protest Against Numbering Them.

Peoria, Ill., Sept. 24.—Declaring that the recent order of the postoffice department requiring the numbering of rural mail boxes and the special ruling which requires postmasters to give the number of boxes on each route when requested, is an injury to shopkeepers and in favor of the big mailing order houses, the Illinois Retail Merchants' Association has risen in protest.

The contention of the association is contained in a letter addressed to Postmaster General Cortelyou at Washington, and in part is as follows:

"The order will most decidedly pervert public service to private ends, and the government is thereby instrumental in bringing about a great menace to a large body of shopkeepers all over the country and playing into the hands of a few prince merchants."

PIONEER FOUNDRYMAN

Death of Thomas Maher of Cleveland,
Aged 74 Years.

Cleveland, O., Sept. 24.—Thomas Maher, the pioneer of Cleveland foundryman and one of the first and foremost manufacturers of car wheels in the country died here today aged 74 years. He was half owner of the Maher Wheel & Foundry Co. until its sale two years ago to the car wheel trust. He was also interested in rolling mills and traction lines and owned considerable real estate.

Accidentally Shot Himself.

Gus Deirling, aged 19 and employed at the Berger works, shot himself in the left foot Saturday afternoon near Greentown. The big toe was almost shot off and after bandaging the foot as well as he could with his handkerchief, Deirling walked a mile and a half to Greentown where he boarded a Canton-Akron car and then went unassisted to the office of Dr. Marchand who dressed the wound.

A DAY OF TERROR

ONE HUNDRED ITALIANS RIOTED
ALL NIGHT.

One Killed and Twenty Injured in Fierce Fighting in West Virginia Town.

Wheeling, W. Va., Sept. 24.—One killed and twenty injured is the result of a day of terror at Hundred, W. Va., a small town on the Baltimore & Ohio railroad where one hundred Italians rioted almost all of Saturday night and this morning. The men are pipe line workmen employed on a new contract some distance from Hundred. Saturday was pay day and after getting their money they came to Hundred and sought out the saloons. They fought over the entire village, which has no police protection, and terrorized the people.

Towards dusk, when all were pretty well intoxicated the finale came. One big Italian with a club wanted battle and struck at a smaller man. Instantly revolvers and stiletos came out and the man with the club fell, pierced by several bullets and suffering many knife wounds. He had two brothers in the crowd and they went in to get revenge. The fighting lasted some time and while no definite results are known as to their wounds, Dr. Yoho attended twenty of them.

The men who killed the Italian with the club escaped. No arrests have been made but the sheriff of Marshall county has been summoned and is trying to arrest the ringleaders.

"ANOTHER BUGHOUSE
GUY," SAID CHIEF

Hoboken Astrologer Warned by the Heavens of Disastrous Fires in October and November.

Chicago, Sept. 24.—Prof. Gustave Meyer of Hoboken, N. J., who says he is an astrologer has sent word to Chief Campion, of the fire department that he (Meyer) has received warning from the heavens that Washington, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Massachusetts and the city of Chicago are to be visited by large fires either in October or November. He asks Chief Campion to "pass the information along the line" and have lots of water on hand.

After reading the letter, the chief said: "Another bughouse guy."

Suit Case Mystery Still Unsolved.

Boston, Mass., Sept. 24.—A young man residing in Winthrop was closely questioned by the police for five hours today in connection with the suit case mystery. He satisfied the officers that he had no connection with the crime. Subsequently an East Boston young woman, with whom he was acquainted and who has been missing for several days has been found. Large searching parties worked unsuccessfully today to find the remaining portions of the body.

Brush Fire Ruins Crops.

Claremont, Cal., Sept. 24.—A brush fire, that burned for two days has devastated San Gabriel valley, destroying all of the vegetation and doing $100,000 damage. The main industry of the valley, bee raising, has been ruined.

Ranchers and their men reinforced by the students of Pomera college fought the fire and finally succeeded in preventing its further spread. Tonight every one who engaged in the fire fighting is physically exhausted. There were no fatalities.

SINGULAR BASIS FOR PENSION APPLICATION

Hand Disabled While Engaging in Fight at Command of Superior Officer.

Washington, Sept. 24.—Sergeant C. E. Orr, of the regular army has applied for a pension, alleging total disability, caused in the line of duty and while obeying the orders of his superior officers.

Orr won the first prize for marksmanship at the recent sea Girt, N. J. contest. During the encampment at Sea Girt, Orr and another soldier engaged in a fight. They saw an officer approaching and desisted. The officer told them not to stop, but hit hard and continue the fight. They did so and Orr's hand was permanently disabled.

In his application for a pension, Orr claims that his injury was received while obeying the commands of his superior officer.

MAN WHO CAUGHT BURGLAR IS KILLED BY THE CARS

Logansport, Ind., Sept. 24.—Homer Crawford, who a few days ago captured a burglar in his home after a desperate battle was killed today on the Pennsylvania railway by being caught between two freight cars. PATTISON'S PLEDGE.

"I promise you, on behalf of all gentlemen on the Democratic state ticket, that, if elected, we shall honestly and fearlessly discharge our duties to the best of our abilities."

"No insolent boss shall dictate to us by telephone. No grafter shall find the atmosphere of the state house congenial to his health and business. Honesty and economy shall govern all our official actions and when we surrender our offices to the people, we shall have clean hands and clean consciences and you will have a commonwealth once more the pride of a great people."—John M. Pattison at Newark.

PEACE IN CAUCASUS

REPRESENTATIVE ARMENIANS AND TARTARS GET TO-GETHER.

Congress of the Different Nationalities
Will Be Held in October to Discuss Differences.

Baku, Caucasus, Sept. 25.—Peace through the Caucasus after weeks of internal strife, in which thousands were killed and property of untold value destroyed, owing to the fanatical war waged by the Tartars upon the Armenians now appears secured.

At a meeting held here between representatives of the Armenians and Tartars it was agreed that the two classes endeavor to preserve the peace and assume a mutual responsibility for life and property, living together hereafter as compatriots.

It has also been decided to hold a great congress in October, to be participated in by all of the nationalities that go to make up the inhabitants of the Caucasus, with a view of putting an end to the bitter feeling between the Christians and the Mohammedans.

The attitude the Russian government has assumed toward the rioting Tartars has been responsible for the sudden termination of hostilities on their part towards the Armenians. The Tartars made up the great part of the police forces of the different cities, and they also had the sympathies of the soldiers of the local garrisons.

Within the past two weeks thousands of Cossacks and many regiments of infantry have been brought into the country from Odessa, and the great show of the military is said to have been the prime factor in convincing the Tartar leaders that the government was in a position to protect the Armenians and prevent any effort upon their part to inaugurate a successful revolution against the czar.

WITH DYNAMITE

Prisoners Blow Out Entire Side of Somerville Jail.

Somerville, N. J., Sept. 24.—One of the most daring attempts at jail breaking ever attempted in this state occurred here tonight, when a gang of desperate criminals blew the side out of the county jail with a heavy charge of dynamite and attempted to make a general jail delivery. Their escape was prevented by William Moore, a watchman, who was patrolling the jail yard and drove back the prisoners at the point of a Winchester. Among the prisoners are several highwaymen, a negro murderer and many other desperate characters. It is thought explosive was carried into the jail by two tramps, committed last night. This is the third attempt of the prisoners to break jail within the past few weeks.

STATE ISSUES SET FORTH BY SPEAKERS OF THE DEMOCRACY

Battle For Clean Politics, Honest and Economical Administration of Public Affairs Begun.

PATTISON'S PLAIN TALK
ON BOSSISM AND GRAFTING

Planks of the Democratic Platform are Analyzed and Their Fulfillment is Pledged.

STANDARD BEARER'S SLOGAN

Speeches by Hon. James A. Rice and Lewis Houck at Newark Campaign Opening.

Newark, O., Sept. 23.—From all parts of Ohio came Democrats to the formal opening of the campaign in behalf of the ticket headed by John M. Pattison for governor.

Mr. Pattison spoke at some length, devoting himself almost entirely to state issues involved in the Ohio contest this year. He said:

I come before you as the Democratic candidate for governor. I ask for the nominees of the state ticket the cordial support of all members of the Democratic party and also the suffrages of all members of the great Republican party and all the people of Ohio who believe in clean politics and honest government and who are opposed to bossism and grafting. I come as a plain citizen on whom has been conferred the high honor and the great responsibility of leadership in this most important campaign. I come as one of the candidates selected by the great Democratic party in a convention that had the appearance of being more like an uprising of the people than had any convention for many years.

As candidates, it is our part to advocate the platform adopted by that convention, and to lead in a battle for reform in the interest of all the people of Ohio. Whether we shall succeed will depend upon you and the great masses of the people. It is your battle as well as ours; if we succeed, it will be your victory as well as ours; but should we fail, the defeat will be yours. It is our duty to make plain to you what a victory will mean, and what deeper degradation must inevitably follow in case of defeat.

No National Issues Involved.
It is fortunate for our cause and for all the people that there are no national issues involved. There is no United States senator and no member of congress to elect. It is a battle on state issues alone. It is a battle for clean politics, honest and economical administration of public affairs, and against bossism and graft.

In the first place, we stand for law and order. We believe in the supremacy of the law. We believe that every official should comply with his oath of office, and on failure to do so he should be compelled to resign because of unfaithfulness to his trust.

The immortal Lincoln said: "Let reverence of law be taught in schools and colleges, be written in primers and spelling books, be published from pulpits and proclaimed in legislative houses, and enforced in the courts of justice—in short, let it become the political religion of the nation."

We endorse this sentiment, as do all the liberty-loving citizens of our country, irrespective of party. We believe that every citizen of our state should obey the law. If perchance there are laws on the statute books which any man thinks unjust, arbitrary or against the best interests of the people, that man as a good citizen should at once set about to have such laws amended or repealed; but as a good citizen, as a patriotic American, while these laws are in force, it is his duty and should be his pleasure to obey them. The want of respect for law is one of the great evils of the day. Mobocracy, anarchy, robbery by public officials and many other crimes are its fruits.

JOHN M. PATTISON.

Germanies Are Law Abiding.
Our opponents tell us that our German citizens will vote against us because we are in favor of maintaining the law. This does grave injustice to the great German-American population of our state. The German people are not unpatriotic; they are not in favor of anarchy and lawlessness. There is no class of our citizens which has higher respect for law and order; it is a part of their nature and education—a tradition from ancestors for generations; their idea of American citizenship is to be good citizens and patriots. They have no respect for an officer who does not himself respect the law. They love liberty, they love personal liberty, but they also love their country, their adopted or native state, and its institutions. They love their homes and their families, and like all other good citizens, know that the home is the foundation of our republican form of government; that the obedience
